

Herb Bloomenthal Award for Community Activism

2013 Nominations due no later than April 19, 2013

BACKGROUND:

The Herb Bloomenthal Award for Community Activism was created to honor the life and volunteer work of Herb Bloomenthal, who died prematurely on September 6, 2000. Each year the Award is given to a community leader for his or her tenacity and dedication to improving Burlington's neighborhoods.

ELIGIBILITY:

To be eligible to receive the Herb Bloomenthal Award, a person must reside in Burlington. Nominees cannot be current Herb Bloomenthal Award Selection Committee members or City employees. Candidates for this award will have demonstrated tenacity and dedication to improving Burlington's neighborhoods.

THE NOMINATION PROCESS

Nominations should include a description of how the nominee meets or exceeds qualifications listed above with specific examples. Links or attachments with supporting information may be included. Please provide a complete name, title, and contact information for the nominee. Please limit the nomination to no more than 600 words.

Nominations may be submitted by any person or group to: Kesha Ram, CEDO, 149 Church Street, City Hall or via kram@burlingtonvt.gov

NOMINATION DEADLINE

Nominations must be received April 19, Friday, 2013

JUDGING PROCESS

The Herb Bloomenthal Award Selection Committee, including diverse representation from Neighborhood Planning Assemblies and other community-based organizations, will make the selection.